Access and Opportunity Workgroup

From the glossary of education reform (http://edglossary.org/opportunity-gap/): "Opportunity gap refers to the ways in which race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, English proficiency, community wealth, familial situations, or other factors contribute to or perpetuate lower educational aspirations, achievement, and attainment for certain groups of students. Generally speaking, opportunity gap refers to inputs—the unequal or inequitable distribution of resources and opportunities—while achievement gap refers to outputs—the unequal or inequitable distribution of educational results and benefits."

The workgroup sought to identify conditions and data that should be publicly reported as a means to elevating the importance of intentionally supporting all students through resource and opportunity allotment. The proposed 'indicators' serve as a status check for both inputs and outputs that are proven to influence success in school, work, and life.

Theory of Action:

If all students are provided the opportunity to attain all required standards (Kentucky Academic Standards) in each grade/year they are in school [Equitable Access; Program Reviews] and

If students are individually supported to attain the standards by effective teachers who provide ongoing feedback and responsive instruction [Equitable Access; Program Reviews; Systems of Support] and

If educators collectively agree that each student will be supported in learning/succeeding at high levels and in areas that align with each student's interests/needs for successful transition to further education/workplace/career [Equitable Access; College/Career (Job) Readiness] and

If all shareholders have access to and use data related to student access and opportunities to rich and varied learning experiences and supports in order to continuously improve course offerings, extended educational experiences, and meaningful social, emotional and physical supports [Equitable Access; College/Career (Job) Readiness; Learning Environment; Systems of Support] then

Each student will have an equitable opportunity to develop the academic, social, and workplace/life skills necessary to ensure a successful transition from preK-12 to the future pathway of their choice, equipped with skills, knowledge and dispositions needed for next steps and productive citizenship.

In terms of accountability, the workgroup believes that a public reporting of objective information that is proven to impact student success in both academic and non-academic areas is needed. Information reported would not be 'evaluative' or translated into a 'score,' per se. Rather, it would serve as a collection of leading and lagging indicators for all shareholders to review in monitoring local efforts and responsiveness to students' access and opportunities.

Academic Indicators would include the following:

- Program Reviews and/or assurances for K-3, Practical Living/Career Studies, Visual and Performing Arts, Writing
- Rigorous coursework and/or enrichment opportunities, including dual credit and AP
- Information literacy/digital learning supports, including library/media specialists
- Guaranteed curriculum in all KAS areas every year by effective, specialized educators

Non-Academic Indicators would include the following:

- Workplace skill development and application
- Social, emotional, and physical health supports
- Counseling/mentoring by caring adults

List the accountability recommendations that are new or substantial changes from the current accountability system. Use additional sheets as necessary.

A DASHBOARD composed of both LEADING and LAGGING INDICATORS will be beneficial to schools, districts, and the state as a whole. Leading indicators serve as 'compass points' – indicating if we are 'on course for success.' Lagging indicators are 'after the fact' indicators that let us know if we have succeeded. Using both will allow for the necessary corrections/adjustments that will ultimately result in better educational outcomes for all students. (All information would refer to the current academic year)
